

Is that young Jack London, arrow, among this group of hopefuls traveling the Klondike trail in search of gold? Author Dick North says he's certain it is. The photo was taken in 1897 by photographer Frank La Roche and titled "Front Street at Sheep Camp."